We all take different paths in life, but no matter where we go, we will take a little of each other everywhere. Hosting international students often helps to bridge the cultural gap that students usually experience and eliminates it. On 23rd February, 2024, 2 students (16 years old) from a public school in Toronto City, Ontario State, Canada were in our school for a few hours. They took a trip around the school and pondered upon the differences. They were given orientation about the school. They spent some time interacting with the SRCIANS of the same age group. The SRCIANS asked a lot of questions to the exchange students and vice versa as well. This experience of students interaction with the host students facilitated understanding of Indian culture as well as Canadians and their perspectives. Students were curious to know about the education system of both the countries. The exchange of learning , experiences and environment promoted adaptability, tolerance for other cultures and global exposure. Both the sides had a good time conversing about their differences with friendships forming at great heights.
